

BAD TASTE, SICK HEADACHE, BILIOUSNESS, CONSTIPATION

Furred Tongue, Bad Taste, Indigestion, Sallow Skin and Miserable Headaches come from a torpid liver and constipated bowels, which cause your stomach to become filled with undigested food, which sours and ferments like garbage in a swill barrel. That's the first step to untold misery—indigestion, foul zozes, bad breath, yellow skin, mental fears, everything that is horrible and nauseating. A Cascarets tonight will surely straighten you out by morning—a 10-cent box will keep your head clear, stomach sweet, liver and bowels regular and make you feel cheerful and bully for months. Don't forget your children—their little insides need a good, gentle, cleansing, too, occasionally.

Pains All Over!

"You are welcome," says Mrs. Nora Guffey, of Broken Arrow, Okla., "to use my letter in any way you want to, if it will induce some suffering woman to try Cardui. I had pains all over, and suffered with an abscess. Three physicians failed to relieve me. Since taking Cardui, I am in better health than ever before, and that means much to me, because I suffered many years with womanly troubles, of different kinds. What other treatments I tried, helped me for a few days only."

TAKE CARDUI The Woman's Tonic

Don't wait, until you are taken down sick, before taking care of yourself. The small aches and pains, and other symptoms of womanly weakness and disease, always mean worse to follow, unless given quick treatment.

You would always keep Cardui handy, if you knew what quick and permanent relief it gives, where weakness and disease of the womanly system makes life seem hard to bear. Cardui has helped over a million women. Try it.

centum arch portray feudal castle scenes in rich, harmonious effect. Above these are plastic bas relief statuary figures.

All the decorations and draperies combine in an ultimate harmony of gray and lavender. The grand drape of rich velvet silk with gold braids and large gold tassels alone cost more than $500. There are hangings to match over the loges and over all the windows and doors.

The decorative work was done by Prof. Ralph Scala, of Uniontown, Pa., and New York City, under the direction of Holmboe and Lafferty, the architects who designed and supervised the erection of the structure.

Ample Dimensions. This theater is more than twice as large as the old Traders Grand opera house and the dimensions are ample for the staging of the largest scenic productions and the comfortable accommodation of audiences on all occasions. There is more than double the cubic stage capacity that the old opera house and nearly three times the seating capacity. The auditorium of the new theater has 475 seats and the house altogether has seats for between 1,100 and 1,200 persons.

Fine Lighting Effects. The lighting effects are splendid. The big chandelier in the main auditorium is a huge, inverted cone covered with 100 incandescent electric bulbs of 60 candle power each, alternately amber, blue and white. A special electrical apparatus on the stage, enables an electrician to dim these lights in sections and by colors; and a realistic moonlight effect can be produced as the occasion requires. Other chandeliers throughout the house are shower fixtures with crystal pendants.

Auditorium Floor. The floor of the main auditorium consists of marbeloid, an asbestos composition with a concrete base, which is non-slipping, slightly resilient, noiseless, sanitary and absolutely fire proof. The seats are unusually comfortable with leather upholstered bottoms and backs. They are technically known as "squal" seats.

The manner of their arrangement is one of the chief attractive features of the house. They are divided into three large sections, which provide two middle and two side aisles, and there is an extra large space between the rows, thus making them easier of access and enabling seated persons to remain seated while others are going to their seats. Particular attention was given to this and the rows were given a width of two

Suffered Twenty-one Years Finally Found Relief

Having suffered for twenty-one years with a pain in my side, I finally have found relief in Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root. The physicians called it "Mother's Pain" and injections of morphine were my only relief for short periods of time. I became so sick that I had to undergo a surgical operation in New Orleans, which benefited me for two years. When the same pain came back one day I was so sick that I gave up hopes of living. A friend advised me to try Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root and I at once commenced using it. The first bottle did me so much good that I purchased two more bottles. I am now on my second bottle and am feeling like a new woman. I passed a gravel stone as large as a big red bean and several small ones. I have not had the least feeling of pain since taking your Swamp-Root and I feel it my duty to recommend this great medicine to all suffering humanity. Gratefully yours, MRS. JOSEPH CONSTANCE, Avoyelles Par., Marksville, La.

Personally appeared before me, this 15th day of July, 1911, Mrs. Joseph Constance, who subscribed the above statement and made oath that the same is true in substance and in fact. WM. MORROW, Notary Public.

DON'T KNOW THEY HAVE APPENDICITIS.

Many Clarksborg people who have chronic appendicitis, which is not very painful, have doctored for years for gas on the stomach, sour stomach or constipation. F. G. inches more than is provided in the best theaters. The aisles are covered with corrugated rubber matting.

There are six exits from the auditorium floor, four in the front and two in the rear.

Balcony and Gallery.

The balcony also contains the "squal" upholstered seats, arranged similar to those in the auditorium with each tier upon successively elevated planes, giving a perfect view of the stage from any seat in the balcony. The gallery has bench seats accommodating two hundred persons. Both gallery and balcony are of steel girder and steel column construction.

Extra Box Office.

The foyer has two stairways to the balcony and two other stairways lead to the gallery, any of which may be reached from both balcony and gallery, thus serving as fire escapes. There are also two stairways from the balcony to the stage, making six different balcony exits. There are separate entrances and a separate box office for the gallery and for the section in the eastern part of the balcony reserved for colored people. The main box office faces the main entrance and on either side of the foyer is a cloak and retiring room for men and women, respectively. The foyer, halls and stairways are covered with corrugated rubber matting with brass trimmings.

The wide flare of the huge proscenium arch adds not only to the imposing architectural qualities but also aids the admirable acoustic properties of the house. Also, it presents an ideal wall surface for the mural decorations and draperies.

Modern Loges.

Another especially attractive feature of the auditorium is the modern loges at the bases of the proscenium arch, which take the place of the old fashioned boxes. These loges have four platforms at different elevations holding eight seats directly facing the stage, thus eliminating the old style annoyance of having to crane and twist one's neck in order to see the stage. The loges are separated from the auditorium seats by a low partition surmounted with brass railings to which are suspended small silk velvet curtains, or hangings. There are no canopies or overhanging draperies as was the case in the old fashioned theater. The loges are designed especially for the accommodation of theater parties.

The Green Rooms.

The green rooms under the stage have a cement floor covered with carpets and include rooms for actors of both sexes, chorus dressing rooms for both men and women, quarters for the musicians and four large hot air furnaces, by which the building is heated. There are entrances from the auditorium, the stage and the rear.

Especially note was made by the crowds attending the opening of the numerous safety features with which the entire house is provided. These are listed elsewhere in this article. There is, of course, a heavy asbestos house curtain. The self-opening flame, or skylight, over the stage was particularly designed as a fire protective measure. Although the house is lighted chiefly by electricity from wires encased in metal conduits, there are permanent gas lights in red globes over each exit, which would provide a continuous light in the event the electricity should be cut off in time of fire or accident.

Fire Precautions.

A thick brick wall between the stage and auditorium, together with the big asbestos curtain and the metal covered stage doors between the stage and auditorium, enables a quick and absolutely fire proof separation of the stage from the auditorium in case of fire. There are water and hose

Freddie Knows, Too

[Anty Drudge—"Freddie, you have mud all over your new linen suit. What will mamma say?"
Freddie—"Oh, she'll be hoppin' angry at first. Then she'll take it off, wash it with Fels-Naptha Soap, and it'll be brand new again."

Are you the wife of a machinist, railroad man, painter or butcher?

Or is your husband in some such trade that means getting his clothes full of oil, grease, paint, bloodstains or dirt of other kinds?

If so, you will appreciate the experience of these women:

Mrs. Charles Slater, 7401 Alaska Avenue, St. Louis, writes: "My husband is a fireman on a locomotive and I had the greatest trouble in getting his clothes clean until I learned that Fels-Naptha Soap would take out all the dirt and grease in cool or lukewarm water. Now it is easy."

Mrs. Charles L. Moore, of 8701 Nevada Avenue, Cleveland, writes: "My husband is a machinist in an iron works. I find that Fels-Naptha Soap easily removes the dirt and grease from his clothing in cool or lukewarm water. Before I learned that, washday was drudgery. Now it is a snap."

Another woman, whose husband is a painter, writes us that she never could get his white suits clean until she tried Fels-Naptha Soap.

Still another, who is married to a butcher, says she has tried nearly all soaps and finds that Fels-Naptha is the only one that will take out all bloodstains and dirt from her husband's white aprons.

Whether you have some special problem in cleaning, or have just the ordinary weekly basket of soiled clothes, you will find that Fels-Naptha Soap in cool or lukewarm water means a great saving in time, labor and clothes.
